DON'T SCARE HIM AWAY.

"I haven't heard you making any complaint about the cost of living. 'Sh-sh! Don't mention it. There's a young man in the parlor with Mabel, and I think he's getting ready to propose."

Be a Booster

Do you know there's lots o' people
Settin' 'round in every town,
Growlin' like a broody chicken,
Knockin' every good thing down?
Don't you be that kind o' cattle,
'Cause they ain't no use on earth,
You just be a-booster rooster,
Crow and boost for all you're worth.
If your town needs boostin', boost 'er;
Don't hold back and wait to see
If some other fellow's willin'—
Sail right in, this country's free.
No one's got a mortgage on it,
It's just yours as much as his,
If your town is shy on boosters,
You get in the boostin' biz.
If things just don't seem to suit you,
And the world seems kinder wrong,
What's the matter with a-boostin'
Just to help the thing along.
'Cause if things should stop agoin'
We'd be in a sorry plight;
You just keep that horn a blowin'—
Boost 'er up with all your might.
If you know some feller's failin',
Just forget 'em, 'cause you know
That same feller's got some good points,
Them's the one's you want to show.
"Cast your loaves out on the waters,
They'll come back" 's a sayin' true,
Mebbe, too, they'll come back 'buttered,'
When some feller boosts for you.

TALLEST BRITISH SOLDIER.

Private H. Barter, who has just joined the First battalion Grenadier Guards, is only eighteen years of age, but stands 6 feet 8 1/2 inches in his stockings and is still growing. He is said to be the tallest soldier in the British army.

"My father, who is a Devonshire farmer, is," he says, "6 feet 5 inches, and my mother is 5 feet 10 inches, so I think it must be hereditary. I have lived nearly all my life in the country. I am doing two hours a day in a gymnasium and about three hours drill, so that in a month or two I ought to reach 6 feet 9 1/2 inches. I have smoked since I was fourteen, or I do not know how tall I should have been."

Formerly Major Oswald Ames of the Second Life Guards, who is 6 feet 7 1/2 inches, was said to be the tallest soldier in the army.—London Daily Mail.

BIRTH OF "WALL STREET."

Under a cottonwood tree, standing opposite what is now No. 60 Wall street, 24 independent brokers on May 17, 1791, signed an agreement for uniform rates of commission and thus founded the present New York Stock exchange. It was nearly twenty years later, in 1817, however, that permanent organization was affected. The exchange is not incorporated, being a strictly voluntary association. It has now 1,100 members. In 1909 a membership or seat in the exchange was sold for $96,000, the highest price on record.

A MISNOMER.

"What! Ten years in an office and you've never once been promoted. What kind of a man do you work for?"

"A promoter."—Boston Transcript.

APPROPRIATE.

"If there are such things as mermaids, I know what they have for pets."

"What do they have?"
"Ocean grayhounds and sea pussies."
